NEXT CONFERENCES FOR 2019: OSLO (May) & BRATISLAVA (October)

Professional services firms who are interested in joining IPG are welcome to attend an IPG conference as an observer to get a first hand impression of our association and our members.

- Communication is frequent between IPG members of varying levels and on different occasions. This helps build and maintain a maximum of level of trust among members for mutual client referrals.

- The twice yearly IPG conferences are hosted at various locations. These are an opportunity for members to get to meet face-to-face and share their international experiences.

- Regional IPG meetings, periodic newsletters, and online discussion forums or Linkedin groups further facilitate communication between members.

- Referring members have a high level of multi-disciplinary and cross border competence.

- This results in strong existing and new client relationships. When referring work within IPG, members can rest assured their clients are "in good hands". All matters are dealt with by professionals that clients know and trust.

- Members benefit from work referred to them from other professionals within IPG.

- IPG membership opens up new horizons. As a member you are part of an open, friendly and well-organized group. Members serve corporate and private clients abroad. An IPG membership represents added value to clients. Membership facilitates the provision of a wide range of multidisciplinary cross-border services.

INCREASE OF BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

We at IPG are always interested in new members. However, we maintain the highest professional standards at all times. Candidate firms will be requested to file an application form with the IPG secretariat. The Board of Directors will subsequently review the application. Then a Due Diligence visit will be carried out by an existing IPG member at the candidate's office.

Once the Board of Directors has reviewed the Due Diligence results, a final decision is taken on whether the candidate firm is proposed for membership.

If so, the candidate firm is invited to the next IPG conference. It can then formally present itself to the attending members who will ultimately vote on their membership.

IPG as a non-profit Ltd makes every effort to keep its operating costs to a minimum and the membership fees reasonably low.
