Insuring Against Risk

One legal claim or catastrophic event could be enough to wipe out a small business or make a serious dent in a larger one. It is imperative you consider the risks relevant to your business and ensure your business is insured accordingly.

Articles of Association

The importance of getting them right

Articles of Association (“Articles”) are rarely considered as the contract between a company and its shareholder(s) or the basic manual for the operation of that company, but this is exactly what they are.
