In this edition, we offer a guide for start-up businesses, find out about an increase in court fees and provide a warning about scammers targeting individuals with pension pots. We discover that Victoria Russell is a savvy woman and congratulate one of our clients on their success at the International Wine & Spirit Competition awards.

In addition, there is a guest article from Initia Management on buying an off-plan property.

Where to begin? A guide for start-ups

With our offices at the heart of London's Silicon Roundabout, Silverman Sherliker LLP is no stranger to the start-up business. In an area where innovation and creativity thrive, we find ourselves assisting entrepreneurs in a wide variety of industries, helping them to navigate their way through the legal minefield surrounding a new business. Trainee solicitor Hollie East examines the legal considerations to be addressed when starting a new business.

Pensions: beware being stung by the scammers

As we enter the brave new world of so called pension freedoms – that simply means that you no longer have to take your occupational or personal pensions as an annuity – so the scammers are moving in for the kill. The temptation of large pots of cash is just too large for them to resist. Pensions partner Jennie Kreser is on the alert.
